Reading the wills

The wills themselves are sometimes a little hard to decipher - you will need to appreciate the significantly different spellings and words that we are unfamiliar with today.

The letter "y" was used instead of the letter "i" for example and double letters were more common - so we see "wyffe" for "wife", and extra letter "e" are common on the ende of words. Some words are also simply no longer in use, for example "kyne" means "cow" but few people would know that today.

But Remmbr: The huamn mnid deos not raed ervey lteter by istlef, but the wrod as a wlohe. The oredr of the ltteers in the wrod can be in a total mses but you can sitll raed it wouthit any porbelm.

Numbers however, were often still written in the Old English style similar to Roman numerals. This table should help!

Latin	Old English	Roman
1	j or i	I
2	ij	II
4	iiij	IV
5	V	V
10	x	X
40	xl	XL
50	1	L
60	lx	LX
100	c	С
500	d	D
1000	m	M

Memorandum That Richard Harrison late of Brumpton Super Swale in the Archdeaconrie of Richmond being visited wth sicknesse, whereof he shortly after dyed, did make his last will & testament the day and yeare above written. And having therein bequeathed divers legacies to his grand-children & others. And nominated Thomas Harrison his only naturall sonne then living sole executor of his sayd will. The sayd Richard Harrison, did then at the very time of his will making cause one maine & principall deed to be brought unto him, (bearing date the seaventh day of may in the twentieth yeare of our late soveraigne lord Jams, by the grace of god of Scotland, France and Ireland then king and of Scotland the fifty five Anno Domini 1622) weh deed with the lands and houses that then at the ye time of his will making, were in the Testators owne right & possession, He did freely and of his owne accord give to Thomas Harrison his sonne in the presents of us whose names are underwritten And beeing asked whether he would have them set downe in the will that then was in writing or not, his answere was to us, It needs not, for why? Saith hee, my giving and delivereing to him, this Deed before you, is a Conveyance and Assurance, Sufficient for him, Moreover the testator did will that his sonne Thomas Harrison (for payment of the Legacies bequeathed in his will) should sell & assurance make of any part of the premisses, by virtue of the savd deed, rather then wage moneys & runne into debt.
